1.	Flight School Labor Rate	N9863L - Replacing flap Indicator notched placard. Removed and replaced notched flap indicator placard with new. During ops check, discovered dirt interfering with microswitch activation. Cleaned area and actuator arm contacts and activated microswitch properly. During ops check, discovered cable that controls flap indication not properly clamped, allowing cable to slip from the flap lever arm, preventing lever arm from actuating and activating micro switch in the 10 degree position intermittently. This was caused by the nut bottoming out on threads before providing enough clamping force to hold the cable in place. Removed nut and added hardware needed. Secured and adjusted cable, verified indicated position matched the actual position of the flaps. Ops check OK. Flaps move reliably into 10 degrees, and indicates the correct flap position selected.
